Elk hunting is my passion.

I've spent the last 19 seasons chasing big bulls.

In that time I have harvested 36 bulls with my bow, under fair chase conditions. I work too hard for shot opportunities to take chances on my equipment and I design products with that in mind. Whether you are on the line at a 3-D or target shoot, in a treestand waiting for a whitetail, chasing big bull elk, or on an international hunt of a lifetime, you can depend on Trophy Taker Products.

Terminal T-Lock

New for 2009

Conventional Shape....Extraordinary Strength
TERMINAL T-LOCK

stamped on every blade.

Manufactured with the same process and qualities as the
SHUTTLE T-LOCK.

The TERMINAL T-LOCK
features the same ferrule as the 100 grain SHUTTLE T-LOCK.

Available in: 100 gr 1 1/16"

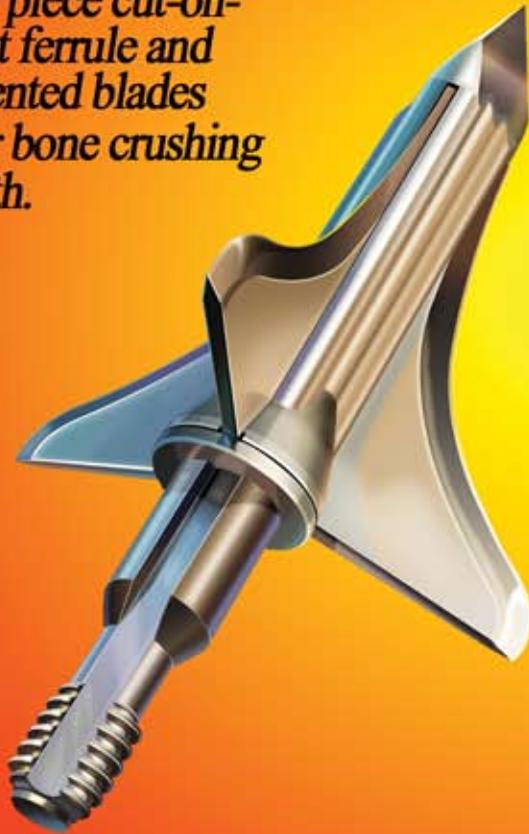

Shuttle T-Lock

Shuttle blade design cuts larger entry and exit holes.

T-Lock blade-to-ferrule connection guarantees... no lost blades.

Single piece cut-on-contact ferrule and non-vented blades deliver bone crushing strength.

Thick blades will cut dense bone.

Quiet non-vented blades won't spook game.

Shuttle T-Lock is made entirely of heat-treated stainless steel for high-impact strength.

*Available in: 100 gr 1 1/8"
125 gr 1 3/16"*

Dear T-Lock Customer,

The acquisition of the T-Lock broadhead business from Butch Summers was a significant event for us in 2009. Thanks to a great customer base, tireless help from Butch and a huge effort on the part of our employees, the merger has been a big success and we are very thankful to be able to offer this great product as part of who we are!

The Terminal T-Lock that we introduced last year has gained momentum and we expect a great year with both heads in 2011. Since the inception of the T-Lock broadhead, it has taken game on every continent that allows bowhunting and has harvested game ranging from the Polar bear of the north to the red stag of New Zealand and everything in between.

Give the T-Locks a try...you will not find a broadhead that combines blade retention, accuracy and deadliness any better than a T-Lock...plus, we GUARANTEE that you will not lose a blade!

Good Hunting,
